Snow rewrites Glades history as mercury hits 27 degrees

32

THREE DEGREES and still falling was the unofficial reading of the Bank of Belle Glade time and temperature Wednesday morning. The low reading was only one degree...but that was Centigrade. The official low, according to the Agricultural Research and Education Center, was 30 degrees Fahrenheit but the ground temperature bottomed out at a chilly 27. Brrrrrr!

BELLE GLADE-S-S-Snow in B-B-Belle G-Glade!

"That's right, grandchildren, it happened during the Big Freeze of '77. It wasn't exactly a blizzard. As a matter of fact, it melted as soon as it hit the ground but the white stuff actually fell."

And that's the way it'll be when the children of today tell their grandkids about how it was back in the good ole days when the whole state went through the hardest winter memory.

But right now, it's recent history as Belle Glade residents, along with the people of South Bay, Pahokee, Clewiston and the entire Glades area rushed outdoors early Wednesday morning to marvel at the white flakes being whipped toward the ground by a frigid wind.

Some people who've lived in the Glades all their lives had never seen snow and no one could remember seeing it here.

WSVN radio announcer Jimmy Simms, at the Belle Glade Herald office, was deluged with calls from area residents who wanted to make sure the news was

A Southern Bell operator said there were so many people in the area attempting to call friends and relatives up north the outgoing lines were clogged and other callers were only getting recordings that due to equipment problems, only emergency calls were being passed through.

One Glades resident said he'd received a call from his family in Fellsmere who said none of the kids there wanted to go to school because they were having too much fun having snowball fights.

And then there was the number of people who said they were thinking about moving to Key West, the only place in the United States where a freeze has never been recorded.

Others weren't satisfied with that. They were talking about South America.

The temperature didn't drop as low Wednesday morning as it did Tuesday, however. On the morning the snow fell, the thermometers in Belle Glade only registered a low of 33 degrees while the mercury bottomed out at 27 degrees Tuesday morning, at least in some unofficial readings.

To make matters worse, statewide conditions were causing power outages, not only in the Glades but all over the state.

Dale Stapp, Florida Power &

Light's Belle Glade regional manager said a broken boiler tube in a generating plant in Sanford and a boiler pump outage in Cape Canaveral's plant, along with the fact the Turkey Point nuclear plant is down for refueling, probably means there will be power outages as long as the cold spell lasts.

"It's part of an overload system we have," he said. "When the system is overloaded at a given location, it automatically shuts down."

Stapp said he isn't "100% sure" but the statewide problems could affect the Glades for several days.

"I'm calling my industrial customers today and asking them to curtail power usage," he said. Stapp said emergency power crews will be on standby to take care of local problems for the duration.

In the meantime, three schools in the Glades were closed Wednesday morning and there was a possibility the entire Palm Beach County school system would be shut down.

Glades Central Principal Effie Grear said the local high school has had cold classrooms all week because of worn out insulation.

"Our boilers are working all right," Mrs. Grear said, "but the insulation on the pipes is worn out. We've been having heating problems but today it was just too cold to keep the children in the classrooms."

West Area Superintendent of Education W. "Dick" Berryman said Lake Shore Middle School and Pahokee High School were also closed down for other problems.

Berryman said a group connected with civil defense was meeting Wednesday morning on the question of whether the entire school system should be shut down until

Up With People is explosion

Alina Gomez

BELLE GLADE—"It's an explosion."

"It's a happening. The whole cast just explodes onto the stage."

It's Up With People but cast members Jeannie Cook, 19, of Tampa and Paula Hart, 18 of Southwick, Mass., say the hardest part of the job of preparing a community for the international musical group is that the performance isn't a stand-up choir singing songs.

The two cast members, squeaky-clean and bubbling over with the image of the stereotyped All American Girl-Next-Door personalities are in town this week to spread the advance word of the group's arrival...and they obviously believed in their message.

"What's hard," Miss Hart said, "is to make people in the community understand what Up With People is. It's a statement about people and it's an educational experience."

Miss Cook said most of the songs sung by the group have been written by members of the cast or past cast members and reflect both the diversity and unity of people.

That diversity and unity are demonstrated nowhere clearer than in the internationalism of the group.

Up With People is international not only because all six of the casts will sing in a variety of foreign countries but in the international makeup of the casts themselves.

The two performers said the casts include youths from South America, several European countries, Japan, Australia and virtually every part of the globe.

And participation doesn't come cheap. Far from it, said Jeannie Cook and that foot bill for a quarter of their year's expenses, putting up $4,000 to match the $12,000 per person paid by the non-profit corporation.

But that doesn't discourage people who think they'd like to take part. Some 450 people participate in the year-long experience. Those 450 are the cream of the crop, chosen from 700 applicants per month...and no one is allowed to participate more than one year.

They said the applicants who must be between 16 and 26 years old, must be in spirit, friends, lines and a willingness to give more than on their musical or dancing talents.

Above all, they said Up With People is an educational experience.

Formally, a high school senior can complete his or her last year while on tour and a college student can receive up to 24 transferable units from the University of Arizona.

"But education doesn't come only from books," Miss Cook said.

"Experience is important too and you do a lot of maturing during the year on tour."

"Whenever we come into a community," she said, "we try to make sure the cast members learn something about the area and the people."

She and Miss Hart said the cast members do this by arranging tours of the community's attractions and meeting people.

Miss Hart said they learn a lot about the people in the area by staying overnight with area families.

"We've already stayed with about 40 families far this year. We've been in very wealthy homes.

and some very poor ones."

They said they are still attempting to find homes to house the 40 members in the cast who will perform at Glades Central.

They said they would welcome invitations from area families and can be reached at 996-6989.

Miss Cook and Miss Hart, who explained they're actually on loan to the cast who will be performing in Belle Glade from another cast, said they will be in town from now through Feb. 1 and the cast will arrive in town Jan. 30 and remain through Feb. 1.

(They said the cast will need housing the nights of Jan. 30 and 31.

BELLE GLADE-The Glades Central High School band will sponsor a performance of Up With People, an international educational program, at 8 p.m. Jan. 31 in the high school gym.

Tickets for the performance will cost $3 for adults and $2.50 for students and the proceeds will go toward paying the band's way to the International Band Festival in Mexico City May 21-25 according to band director Willie Pyfrom.

The two-hour evening performance will follow a daytime 45 minute free performance scheduled for students only and is part of a nine-day swing through Florida by two of Up With People's six casts.

Want on city agenda? It's harder in South Bay

SOUTH BAY-After more than a month of trying, the City Commission approved a resolution Tuesday night drawing up guidelines on how citizens can be heard during commission meetings.

The heart of the new rules is a requirement that a member of the general public must request the city clerk no later than any Thursday preceding a regular meeting to be placed on the agenda.

It won't really be all that hard for a resident to voice his opinions, however, because anyone wishing to be heard need only raise his hand and be recognized by the chair.

The idea behind the requirement was to hold down the number of interruptions and disturbances during meetings. The resolution was passed unanimously.

The commission also passed a resolution asking the State Department of Community Affairs to include the city in its application to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for local planning assistance funds for the coming fiscal year.

City Finance Director A.R. Grigsby told the commissioners the city needs to get the funds to go ahead with comprehensive planning. Without the comprehensive planning, he said, the city won't be eligible for any future federal funds.

Commissioner Vernita Cox questioned Grigsby closely about what planning is now being done, by whom and when the city can expect reports.

Grigsby told her some studies are now being made by Richard Orman of Barker, Osho and Anderson. He said the commission will have to approve any final plans and he will make periodic reports.

UP WITH PEOPLE will be sponsored by the Glades Central High School Band as a fund-raising project to help send the local band to the International Band Festival in Mexico City.

USDA scientists cross cane for better result

Crossbreeding sugar cane is no simple task, as evidenced by the extensive research and growth stages involved in the process. But a condensed look at the unique work being done at the USDA (U.S. Dept. of Agriculture) Field Station in Canal Point can lend a general understanding of the process.

For many people living in the Glades area are surrounded by sugar cane fields but are unaware of the experiments being conducted to discover outstanding varieties of the cane.

Dr. J. D. Miller, Research Leader at the Canal Point station, provided information of the entire process of crossbreeding. "Here and the Research Department of the U. S. Sugar Corporation in Clewiston are the only two places in South Florida where crosses are made," Miller said.

According to Miller, a team approach is taken to plant breeding with contributions made from three sources. The USDA Agricultural Research Service's contribution to the crossbreeding is the Canal Point Station; Dr. Paul Lyrene, professor of the University of Florida stationed in Canal Point, is the state's contribution; and two technicians and labor money is the Florida Sugar Cane League's contribution.

"The Canal Point Sugarcane Field Station processes approximately 60,000 seedlings per year," Dr. Miller said. They supply true sexual seeds for variety processing in Florida, Louisiana, and Mississipippi. The Mississippi station is concerned predominantly with production of syrup.

Dr. Miller described the four stages in the sugarcane variety development process. They include making crosses, planting fuzz and planting seedlings.

Stages one and two are performed in Canal Point while stages three and four are performed on cooperators' farms, of which there are eight throughout the industry.

The process involves decreasing the number of genotypes (there are about 60,000 seedlings) and increasing the plot size.

The Canal Point station distributes 100 varieties per year to cooperators' fields. In the third stage, these varieties are planted at four locations, with two replications made at each of the four

Group awaiting bank approval

PAHOKEE—Application has been made by six area businessmen to build a National Bank in Pahokee with the main office to be located at the intersection of Armature Rd. and U.S. Highway 441.

J. Ray Hatton of Pahokee, who is acting as sole agent to represent the interested parties, said the bank could open in as early as nine months. He said the Federal Bureau of Investigation is presently investigating each of the backers. This must be done before approval of the application can be made by the federal authorities.

The bank will bear one of three titles submitted by the group. They are: Farmer's and Merchant's National Bank of Palm Beach County, Union National Bank of Palm Beach County or First National Bank of Pahokee. The name will be chosen by the government.

At the sale price of $10 per share, 150,000 shares of the bank stock are to be issued. Member of the community will be allowed to purchase stocks in the bank.

limited to $1,000 worth of shares per person, Hatton said.

Hatton also stressed that development of the new bank will provide for community involvement and the bank will serve the entire glades area.

ICE NO, SNOW YES! There was no ice inside this cooler but snowflakes settled on top of it in the cold morning hours.

Snow in Pahokee

White stuff brings problems

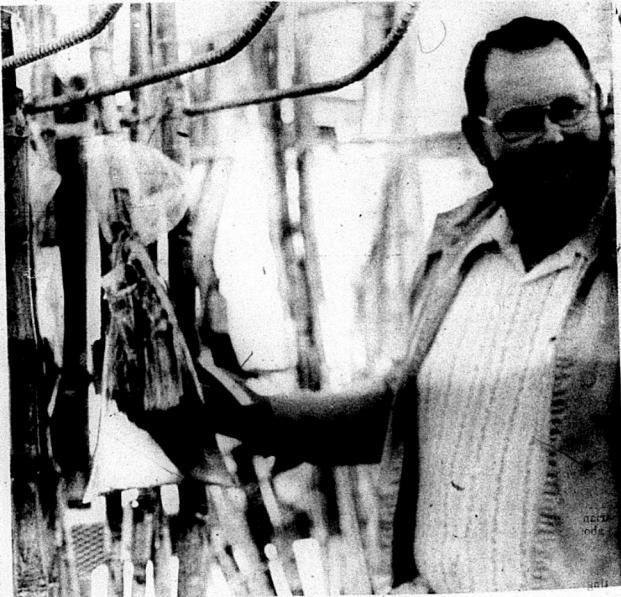

The statement that it doesn't get cold in Florida has definitely been disproved this week. For snow flakes and extremely cold conditions have prevailed throughout the state and even in the Glades and further south into the Miami area.

The snow and cold weather brought smiles of excitement but it also brought electrical and heating failures. Pahokee High School, Glades Central High School and Lakeshore Middle School students were dismissed for the day yesterday. Dick Berryman, Superintendent of the West Area Public School system, said that the schools were dismissed because of malfunctions of the heating systems at each of the schools.

Berryman said that a meeting was being held by the Civil Defense on the coast with the possibility of shutting down the whole system to conserve energy.

Mr. Sapp, manager of the Florida Power and Light Company in Belle Glade, said that a generation problem is causing power failures throughout the state. One unit in Sanford and one unit in Cape Canaveral was broken down, which resulted in an overload situation. One unit was also down because of a boiler pump problem. "In this type of emergency, we lose feeders, which are the major carriers of power to the sections of the towns."

Brrrr! at 9 a.m. yesterday, the Bank of Pahokee recorded a chilly temperature of 28°. The temperature was accompanied by gusty winds and snow flurries to make one wonder if this was really south Florida.

PHA meeting

Project parking damages sewer

PAHOKEE—In the PHA's (Pahokee Housing Authority) regular Board of Commissioners meeting last Thursday, the commissioners voted to send out directives to project tenants stating that vehicles or buses parked in swell areas, between sidewalks and roads, will be towed away at the owner's expense.

The board was acting on the recommendations of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Mr. Miller, a spokesman for HUD in Jacksonville, informed acting director Mary Ellen Van Winkle that parking in these areas is ruining the sewer system and that no more money will be allocated to the Housing Authority from HUD for sewage repair.

The county is presently filling in these swell areas so the commissioners voted to table action suggesting the resurfacing of the areas with asphalt until the results of filling in are seen.

The PHA voted to turn over all water meters and services to the City of Pahokee for Stuckey and Marcott projects. This would raise the minimum allowances for elderly couples to $14 per month but the PHA, in turn, would give tenants that money back on their rent. Thus the only real effect on tenants would be that "they would have the inconvenience of going to the city to pay their water bills," Commissioner Robert Apelgren said.

Van Winkle suggested that the PHA start replacing kitchen cabinets and sinks in the project homes. "The PHA did this since 1972," she said, "and I would like to get at least 10 replaced in a year." With the advice of their attorney, the board will advertise for bids on the materials needed to be replaced.

Commissioner Apelgren made a final motion that Ms. Van Winkle be named "acting director of the PHA until such time as the board sees fit. She will have all responsibilities of past directors including hiring and firing and use of the automobile."

No school today for area students

West Area Education Superintendent Dick Berryman announced Wednesday afternoon there would be no school today for Glades area schools. Berryman said no decision had been made as yet on whether classes would resume Friday.

Utility bills to be paid by Authority

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee Housing Authority Board of Commissioners, unaware that the $\frac{1}{4}$ agreement with the City of Pahokee over sewage and water bills was not being paid, agreed to pay $\frac{1}{4}$ of their monthly bills at a rate to be worked out. The Authority owns the \$62,745.60 in bills accumulated since Jan. 1976.

The PHA was only paying \$7,500 per month which did not amount to $\frac{1}{4}$ of their monthly bill, but the city, as brought up in last Tuesday night's City Council meeting, had not repaired all of the PHA water meters within a three month period as was also included in the agreement.

As Mayor Duncan Padgett said, "We (the city) haven't lived up to our agreement and they haven't either."

Both the City Council and the PHA commissioners wish to meet and decide on an appropriate rate fee for the PHA utilities.

BELLE GLADE- Members of the Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club arts department found a double winner when they sat down to judge the entries of budding Belle Glade poets last week.

Forrest Eggleston, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Eggleston of 1408 N.W. Ave B, was presented the first prize for his entry, "The Stars," and then arts chairman Ginger Massingill turned and gave him an honorable mention certificate for another poem he had submitted in the annual judging. Eggleston is a senior at Glades Central High School.

Mrs. Massingill said there was a total of 139 entries this year. The annual contest is open to all high school students in grades 9-12 at Glades Central, Christian Day School and Glades Day School.

Dr. Bill Tarvin, instructor of literature at Palm Beach Junior College, judged the entries anonymously.

The second place winner was Joan Porter of Glades Central who submitted, "If I Had Known" and third place went to Tina Farnall of Glades Day School for "Smiles".

The club gave a certificate and a $25 prize for first place. There was a $10 second place and a $10 third place prize.

Honorable mention certificates were awarded to Lynette Collins of Glades Central, Cassandra Swain of Glades Central, Forrest Eggleston of Glades Central, Mitchell Weeks of Glades Day and Lori Betts of Glades Day.

THE STARS

They shine out there in the black
Like holes in a velvet sack

Not just stars, but nave, galaxies, and gas

A ring of light that looks like glass
Gas like an ever-burning wisp 'of POETRY AWARDS presented Friday (from left) were to Tin Farnall for third place, Joan Porter for second place, Ginger Massingill (presenting the awards for the Junior Women's Club), Forrest Eggleston for first place and to Mitchell Weeks, Lori Betts, Lynette Collins and Cassandra Swain, all for honorable mention.

Shower honors Kathy Hansford

BELLE GLADE- A surprise baby shower honoring Mrs. Kathy Hansford was held at the home of Mrs. R.V. Turner, 500 Orange Avenue Circle, at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 13. Mrs. Hansford is expecting her second child the middle of February.

The evening began with a social hour in which refreshments were served; then at 8:30 p.m., the guest of honor arrived to be surprised that the occasion was in her honor.

Mrs. Hansford was presented with a corsage of fresh daisies, combined with an infant rattle and yellow infant ribbon. This corsage complimented Mrs. Hansford's slack outfit which was in tones of rust, beige and brown.

The hostess' color theme was yellow, green and white which further complimented our red-haired expectant mother. Refreshments of punch, coffee, nuts and mints featured a centerpiece cake dominated by Mr. Stork himself. The room's decor was carried out in all the accessories.

Hostesses for the shower were Stella Turner, Vanda Morrow, Phyllis Purcell, Sandi Adams, Kathy Moore, Cathy Courson, and Gail McGahee. A Port-a-crib was given by the hostesses. Many other delightful gifts were given and Mrs. Hansford, her friends and family all enjoyed the celebration in anticipation of Baby Hansford's arrival.

Ginger Atkins is admitted

BELLE GLADE-The daughter of a local minister was one of the 60 students recently admitted who will be admitted to Judson College in Marion, Ala.

Ginger Atkins, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Atkins of First Baptist Church in Belle Glade, will be admitted to the women's college this fall.

Creech, Jr., beautification chairman, will notify members of the exact time and location of the planting. The members are all busy working to have their plants ready for the sale at the Annual Mental Health Arts and Crafts Festival to be held in April.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Horace Harris and Mrs. Charles J. Scieble.

Other members in attendance were: Mrs. Pablo Vinent, Mrs. Howard Lamb, Mrs. M.E. Roth, Mrs. Luther W. Jones, Mrs. Carol C. Lockmiller, Mrs. Ruth Wedgeworth, Mrs. J.A. Bell, Jr., Mrs. Marlan Chapman and Mrs. Ivan L. Van Horn.

It was decided the club would plant a tree on Jan. 21 which is Florida Arbor Day. Mrs. R.Y.

Garden Study Club views film on California garden

The Garden Study Club of Belle Glade held its January meeting at the Belle Glade Municipal Library Friday. Mrs. Glenn G. Strickland, librarian, presented a film to the club about the Gardens of Simeon in California.

Mrs. Thomas L. Swager, past president, presided at the business meeting which followed. The dried arrangement contest was won by Mrs. E.L. Van Landingham and second place was captured by Mrs. Thomas Bregger. Mrs. Edward D. Duda won the specimen award with a most gorgeous-looking lavender-colored petunia.

It was decided the club would plant a tree on Jan. 21 which is Florida Arbor Day. Mrs. R.Y.

Mrs. Fred John is hostess at Xi Beta Gamma session

Mrs. Fred John of 1009 SE 2nd Street was the hostess to her chapter, Xi Beta Gamma, Beta Sigma Phi, on Tuesday, Jan. 11. Mrs. Milton Carpenter, Vice President, presided at the business session due to the absence of the President. City Council members were presented by Mrs. Warren Battle.

Mrs. Earl Lindrose was chosen as President for the remaining of the chapter year, due to the resignation of Mrs. John Turnbull who is moving to the coast with her husband.

Mrs. Ruth Wedgeworth displayed her slides and gave commentary on her recent trip to Russia. Many differences were noted between our countries. Delicious ice box pie from an old southern recipe was served by the hostess.

Members attending were: Mrs. Thomas P. Barker, Mrs. Charlotte Barnett, Mrs. Warren Battle, Mrs. Milton Carpenter, Mrs. G. Lorenzo Connell, Mrs. Francis W. Cross, Jr., Mrs. Wm. Gruber, Mrs. Betty Kidder, Mrs. Earl Lindrose, and Mrs. Rosa Nash.

Bridge Club members tie for second

BELLE GLADE-Members of the Belle Glade Duplicate Bridge Club found themselves with a tie for second place when they met last week at the St. John's Episcopal Church Ringland Hall. Club member Bill Wood said first place was taken by Mutt Wilson and Mike Kirchman while the tie for second place was taken by Joann Whitlock and Glenn Strickland on one team and Mai Rita Zumpf and Jean Roemer on the other.

Mrs. Wood said the duplicates club meets at 1 p.m. every Tuesday at Ringland Hall. All bridge players are invited.

Our priceless heritage embodied in our Constitution is as fresh and vital today as it was when written for the ages in the days of independence.

It stands for all the world to see and for all the world to know. It stands for the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, and the other great leaders of our country, a privilege, a right, and a duty. While we should not disagree as to the goal of our country, we should all agree that a democratic society is the world's greatest achievement.

Pahokee Personals

by Laurel Tarr

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cooney and Kim of Winter Haven, Fla., were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hundley this past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Freels of Reno, Nevada arrived in Pahokee, visiting with long time friends Mr. and Mrs. Hundley.

Mrs. W.I. Sanders, of Tulsa, Okla. is visiting her brother and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Arch Blaney. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders and children Dicksey and Derek have returned to Tulsa after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Blaney.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wagnon, sons Jason and Wade; Mrs. Felix Slonaker and children Phyllis, Ramona and Paul along with Mr. James Wagnon have returned to their homes after a week's visit with their parents Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wagnon in Van Buren, Ark.

While in Arkansas they also visited their two brothers and their families, Mr. Donald W. Wagnon from East Alton, Ill. and

Mr. K.B. Wagnon, home on emergency leave from the U.S. Army. The family was called to Arkansas because of the ill health of their father Mr. E. R. Wagnon; however, Mr. Wagnon's condition has improved.

A REASON FOR EVERYTHING

The giraffe was given a very long neck and legs so that he could feed on the leafy part of trees. The giraffe is the only animal that can not make a sound. We do not know the reason for this. God has revealed many things to us; but not all things. Men delve deeply into theology and find many things that cannot be answered, but God has given us the answer to all things pertinent to our salvation.

Attend church, study God's word and grow in faith.

Vena Mae Schroder Circle meets

PAHOKEE—The Vena Mae Schroder Circle met January 12, 1977 at the home of Mrs. Helen Davis. Delicious refreshments were served as members arrived and a lovely time of fellowship was enjoyed.

Mrs. Hazel Ruthrauff was welcomed back as she and her husband are visiting their daughter and her family, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Hatton. A welcome was also extended to Mrs. Kathryn Collins, who is becoming a new member.

The new President, Mrs. Norma Cook, called the meeting to order and asked Mrs. Louise Brown to lead in an opening prayer. Mrs. Cook asked all members to be as active as possible in all areas of Christian life. She stressed as a theme for the year LOVE, not our love, but GOD'S LOVE. She also reminded all members that it is their duty as Christians to share God's love.

A report of the general United Methodist Women's meeting was given and Mrs. Helen Davis reported that the UMW would observe the World Day of Prayer on January 19, 1977. The chapel will be open and someone will be in attendance from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The Vena Mae Circle will be in charge of the tape ministry for the month of Feb., 1977. The members were reminded of the importance of this ministry and some ladies shared blessings they had received while about this task.

It was reported that the District Workshop for United Methodist Women will be held in Pahokee on Feb. 6, 1977 at the Methodist Church from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. It will be most helpful for all ladies in the church to attend.

Mrs. Marjorie Hatton reported how misleading some program materials can be and she asked that one search beyond the printed word, in many cases for a true to life look at some situations. Christianity is oppressed in many places in the world today and from these areas only a very censored version of the truth is printed. She asked the ladies to be in prayer about this problem.

Four new members join Pahokee Woman's Club

PAHOKEE—Four new members were voted into the Pahokee Woman's Club at the business meeting held on Wednesday, Jan. 12.

Those joining the membership were Dorothy Harvey, Wilma Holley, Lola Ryals and Lillian Seelby.

Bonnie Miller was appointed House Chairman by Ethel Johnson, vice-president, who presided over the meeting. Mrs. Miller succeeds Lois Mullis who resigned because of illness in the family. In other business, plans were completed for the purchase of a new stove for the clubhouse kitchen, to replace the antique one.

The Happy Friends Club, an affiliate of the Woman's Club, has made a generous donation of $100 toward the cost of the stove.

The next meeting will be a luncheon on Jan. 26, with Katherine Powell in charge. She will be assisted by Virginia Stokes and Janette Johnson.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for us and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Alice Ramey is honored at tea

The home of Margaret Fanjul, 108 N. Greenstar Ave., Pahokee, was the scene from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Jan. 15, of a charming afternoon tea given by the Everglades Memorial Hospital Auxiliary in compliment to Alice Ramey, immediate past president of the Auxiliary, who is moving the last of this month from Pahokee to Rockledge.

Serving as hostesses for the Auxiliary with Mrs. Fanjul were Tina Elliott, Marjorie Laks and President Ilmae Lampi.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Fanjul and Mrs. Ramey were Mrs. Ramey's husband, George, and Mrs. Lampi.

At either end of the table, which was laid with white lace, were glistening silver coffee and tea services. Flanking the centerpiece, a large bouquet of pink rosebuds, stephanotis and fern artistically arranged in a silver bowl by Tina Elliott, were two silver tri-candelabra bearing lighted pink candles.

At the table pouring tea and coffee during the afternoon were Marion Bleech, Gertie Williams, Beekie Keep and Bonnie Miller. Fay Stewart was in charge of the guess book.

Refreshments, were served to approximately 35 persons, included, in addition to tea and coffee, a tempting variety of tasty Danish pastry tidbits.

Wearing a pink rosebud corsage made and pinned on by Tina Elliott, Mrs. Ramey was presented with a lovely silver pitcher inscribed with the years (1965-76) during which she gave more than 18,000 hours of volunteer work to Everglades Memorial Hospital as an Auxiliary member, service chairman, gift shop manager, buyer and president. The presentation of the gift of appreciation was made on behalf of the Auxiliary by President Ilmae Lampi.

The First Annual Collier County Fair and Exposition was a success as attendance was very high, especially for a maiden venture. Collier County Commissioner Russ Wimer said, "Our dream of founding a County Fair has been realized. The 'Dream' would have never gotten off the ground had it not been for total cooperation county wide of the residents throughout Collier County."

The fair was truly a representative of Collier County's people serving as a melting pot of ideas and accomplishments. Everywhere you stopped or shopped clerks, waitresses and civil servants either asked if you had been to the fair yet or if you were on your way to the fair. Stores, gas stations, motels and restaurants were busy serving an influx of tourists and citizens from outlying areas of Naples who spent an evening or two "In-town" instead of driving back to their home in Immokalee or some other community. Those who had campers or motor homes practically lived at the fair-grounds the entire week.

Twenty-two year old Peggy Williams of Naples was first named Miss Congeniality then crowned Queen of the pageant Wednesday night. To the girls competing, the Congeniality award is as coveted as the Queen's crown. The double honor for Peggy brought all the tears and exclamations that have ever been seen on the Miss America extravaganza.

Thursday night featured local country talent in the form of free bands named "COUNTRY EXPRESS", "RAMBLIN' FOUR" and "THE COUNTRY SOUNDS".

Fire ravishes building

PAHOKEE—A two-story rooming house, located at 511 5th St. and Rardin and owned by Mr. David Hill, caught on fire at approximately 12:30 p.m. Sunday, resulting in the total loss of over 50 percent of the building.

According to Fire Chief Cecil Phillips, a two burner hotplate sitting in a cloth chair with a skillet of chili on the burner was the cause of the fire as flames reached the cloth. Wind coming through the front door then carried the draft through the hall, setting other rooms on fire.

"Firemen were able to get the fire under control within thirty minutes," Phillips said, although they did not leave the scene until 3 p.m.

The fire brought people running out of 11 rooms that were occupied at the time, out of the 23 rooms in the building, but no injuries were reported.

"The fireboys did an excellent job of holding the fire from spreading any further than it did," Phillips said. "It took both fire trucks and a crew of firemen to control the fire."

Weather kept most fishermen off the lake

BELLE GLADE—Wind and rain in the South Florida area kept most fishermen inside by the fire

Annual flower and foliage survey to get underway

The annual survey of Florida's flower and foliage plant growers will be conducted by the Florida

Crop and Livestock Reporting Service beginning in early January. Richard P. Small, Statistician in Charge, said that "information will be obtained for major non-cultured crops produced in 1976, as well as a preview of 1977's trends."

Twenty-six other major producing states will also participate in the survey.

Growers will be contacted through mail questionnaires, and telephone and personal interviews. The results of the survey will be published March 4. The survey will include more cut flowers, potted and bedding plants and five more producing states than a year earlier. These states are Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Kansas and Virginia.

Saturday featured for the most part rain, rain and more rain, however, Charlie McCoy, Judy Lynn from Las Vegas, Red and Murphy Henry and Don Jarrell's SUN COUNTRY Band entertained at 7 and 9 p.m. with top-notched performances despite the ever present downpours. Several hundred loyal country music fans sat in the open air grandstand under makeshift shelter.

I was proud of the outcome and the professionalism of the Board of Directors and the performers who often worked under less than ideal circumstances due to inclement weather.

Hopefully Simon Train Productions will be included in the capacity of furnishing the same services at the Second Annual Collier County Fair as I thoroughly enjoyed the working relationship with those involved in producing the fair this year.

Nashville packed over 5,000 fans into the SwampBuggy Grounds, home of the Collier County Fair.

South Bay City Commission decides to increase fees

SOUTH BAY-Inflation caught up with South Bay Tuesday night when the city commissioners decided qualifying fees for future city elections will be increased 2500 percent...and it could have been 106,000 percent.

The qualifying fee for would-be city commissioners has been set at $1 since the city was formed but the commissioners decided on a 4-1 vote future candidates will have to pay $25.

Commissioner Billy Wells said he thought the candidates ought to pay a $105 fee, 5 percent of the commissioner's $2,100 yearly salary, in order to cover the cost of the city's elections but he received no support.

The decision to raise the fees came out of a discussion during a workshop session last week when the commissioners generally decided the fees were too low and ought to be brought up in line with other cities in the area.

When Commissioner Jay Smith said the $25 fee would bring South Bay up to what Belle Glade candidates pay, Commissioner Woodrow "Woody" O'Neal said there should be no real comparison.

"Belle Glade commissioners make a lot more than we do," O'Neal said. He cast the only dissenting vote on the question.

In another split vote, Police Chief Willie Wrisper received the police cars he had told the commissioners he wanted instead of the cars the city had ordered.

Five automobile dealers answered the city's call for bids two weeks ago for five police cruisers but four of the five submitted bids on cars with 305 cubic inch engines and one, who Wrisper said he had seen a different set of specifications to, submitted a price on cars with 350 cubic inch engines.

Wrisper told the commissioners at that time he wanted cars with the larger engines because those were the size engines he now has in his cruisers.

The city re-advertised for bids and the only dealer to answer by Tuesday was Bonavia Chevrolet of Belle Glade. The city agreed to accept the bid price of $4,999 per car. The bid is an increase from the $2,684 low bid two weeks ago by Carter Chevrolet of Pahokee.

The city also received only one bid on a 40 by 100 foot steel building the city needs to replace the city maintenance shed with.

Edens Construction Co. of South Bay was awarded the bid price of $39,188.55 for the building.

Mayor Don Tanner said he wanted the city to accept the bid, which works out to $39.75 per square foot, and that is some $4 less than most contractors are charging for similar buildings.

City Public Works Director Lomax Harrelle said the bid does not include facilities for the greater rock but there is a possibility, once the rock is removed, and replaced with compacted rock, that a pit could be included in the plans for little more cost.

At the U.S. Sugar Corp. mills in Clewiston and Bryant, a report came from A.R. Mayo, vice president in charge of production.

So far this season, Mayo said, the Clewiston mill has lost a total of 73 grinding hours because of the wet weather. During the same time last season, he said, the total time lost was only 45 minutes.

At the Bryant mill, near Pahokee, the total time lost this year has been 46 hours. During the same period last season, Mayo said that mill had not lost one minute because of the lack of cane, because of weather conditions.

Fairbanks said area growers would be paying particular attention to reported freezes that are predicted for the lake area this week.

The industry spokesman said no great damage should occur, unless there was an prolonged period of sub-freezing weather.

A frost would not damage the cane, Fairbanks said. The cold weather should result in an increase in its sucrose (sugar) content, he said.

Although the area had an extremely hot summer, most of the mill operators said the sucrose content of the early cane had been above expectations.

The cool, windy weather that followed the weekend rains helped dry out the cane-growing lands, Fairbanks said, making it possible to resume burning operations.

[Q] If I own a condominium apartment, may I receive homestead exemption on it, the same as I would on a regular house?

[A] A condominium apartment where the land is owned by the Condominium Association or which has a land lease of at least 99 years is considered by Florida law to be the same as an individually owned home for filing for homestead and other exemptions. The state legislature has the authority to reduce the length requirement of the condominium land lease to 50 years.

Each person owning a condominium apartment must make application for their homestead the same as you must for an individual home.

The League will then send out mailings to members noting the estimated tons of seed cane available. The members, in turn, select the location nearest to them where they may buy the seed cane at a price set by the League. Cooperators, however, may keep 20% of the seed, or mature cane.

Thus the USDA Sugar Cane Field Station develops the varieties, then turns them over to the Fla. Sugar Cane League which makes the varieties available to its members.

the cold fronts pass through the county.

He said he could receive word to that effect at any time.

Area farmers still weren't sure how the frigid weather would affect local crops. While the cold weather would mean a rise in the amount of sucrose yielded by sugar cane, it could also kill the cane if it lasts too long.

It was still too early Tuesday to tell how the frost that morning had affected vegetable crops and no word was received on Wednesday when The Herald went to press.

And the meteorologists were predicting still colder weather this morning.

Development director addresses commission

PAHOKEE-Mr. Ansel Jefferies, Jr., Director of the Community Development Division, addressed the Council Tuesday night on the signing of an extension of an inter-local agreement between the city and Community Development for its third year program beginning on Oct. 1, 1977, but no definite action was taken.

The city also received only one bid on a 40 by 100 foot steel building the city needs to replace the city maintenance shed with.

Edens Construction Co. of South Bay was awarded the bid price of $39,188.55 for the building.

Mayor Don Tanner said he wanted the city to accept the bid, which works out to $39.75 per square foot, and that is some $4 less than most contractors are charging for similar buildings.

City Public Works Director Lomax Harrelle said the bid does not include facilities for the greater rock but there is a possibility, once the rock is removed, and replaced with compacted rock, that a pit could be included in the plans for little more cost.

The commission accepted the bid unanimously with the condition suggested by Commissioner Jay Smith that Harrelle be responsible for inspection during construction.

Jefferies explained that his division must qualify for funds each year. Pahokee was not involved in its first year program but, when the city became part of the urban county, it released funds for the second year program totaling $80,000 to be used for public improvement for the City of Pahokee.

The Dept. of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has estimated that $5 million will be available for the program for the entire urban county in the third year.

The second year program ends on Sept. 30, 1977, and the applications for the third year must be in by July 15, Jefferies said.

The City of Pahokee has previously expressed a desire that funds be used for the construction of a community building and for the completion of a comprehensive plan.

strains to flower (produce a tassel at the top of the stalk) at the same time. Two techniques are followed to achieve simultaneous flowering.

The first technique is to manipulate the photo period through induction experiments. An 11 1/2 hour dark period is needed for the stalks to flower so this period is provided and it results in the cane flowering earlier than normal.

The other technique is to delay early flowering varieties by applying a longer than natural day length (11 1/2 hour dark period) after the tassels have been formed.

This slows down the rate of development of the tassels and permits some crosses to be made that could not be made with flowering under natural conditions.

The two mills of the U.S. Sugar Corp., located here and at Bryant near Pahokee, set a world's grinding record Friday when their combined production was 27,593.

A. R. Mayo, vice president in charge of production said the Bryant mill set a record for a single-tandem operation when it processed 15,176 tons within a 24-hour period.

The Clewiston mill, commonly known as the "granddaddy of the mill" in south Florida, contributed 12,417 tons to the one-day total.

Rains hurt sugar cane industry

Unseasonable rains that struck the Lake Okeechobee area beginning Friday have caused the shutdown of eight sugar mills that annually contribute an estimated $300,000,000 to the state's economy.

J. Nelson Fairbanks, vice president and general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League, said he had received unofficial reports of five inches of rainfall in the cane and vegetable growing areas around the big lake.

C.R. Wilcoxen, a weather bureau observer at the Agricultural Research and Educational Center Belle Glade, said the official reading for the three-day period, beginning Friday, was 3.8 inches.

The 53-year average for January is 1.78 inches. Throughout January and February of 1976, Wilcoxen said, only 0.57 inches were recorded at the experiment station.

At the U.S. Sugar Corp. mills in Clewiston and Bryant, a report came from A.R. Mayo, vice president in charge of production.

So far this season, Mayo said, the Clewiston mill has lost a total of 73 grinding hours because of the wet weather. During the same time last season, he said, the total time lost was only 45 minutes.

Little League is safest and largest program for sports minded youngsters

PAHOKEE— "I trust in God, I love my country and will respect its laws, I will play fair and strive to win, but win or lose, I will always do my best..." This official Little League Pledge was given before each game by more than three thousand youngsters and youth during the 1976 season.

The thousands of volunteers make this program a reality in their local communities. "There are some individuals who volunteered to work with the Little League program when their kids were young and are still involved in it, after 15 years although their kids are grown and no longer playing in the league," says Mr. Arnold S. White, Sr., Southern Regional Director.

Bill Abernathy of Pahokee re-signed as president of the Pahokee Little League Baseball organization after four years of service and then, almost three years ago, there has not been such a program, this is due to lack of interest, Abernathy believes.

The Pahokee organization was federally chartered with its own board of directors and set by laws. The year before the Pahokee team was dropped, Abernathy said, "a Pahokee team went to the semi-finals in the state playoffs." A World Series is also played at the end of each program.

"Little League Baseball is a federally chartered organization that is totally non-profit and voluntary. No other sports organization has this distinction by Congress," White said. Abernathy stated that he would be glad to assist anyone in re-establishing the program in Pahokee although he would not be available to serve as president of the organization.

To get full details and how to apply for a charter, interested persons may write: Little League Baseball, Inc., P.O. Box 13866, St. Petersburg, FL 33733 or call 813 344-2661.

Because of research and policies established as a result of medical findings, these are the largest safest and most competitive programs available.

Beach County Commission just one hour after leaving the meeting to ask for that money to be appropriated.

The sheriff's plans for West Palm Beach County's Glades area are already in movement. He has added a new dispatcher and plans another deputy to cover the area.

Willie said he will initiate a "Canir" cop" patrol in the Belle Glade-Pahokee area. "A lot of criminals don't think anything about taking a several men but they're usually scared to death of dogs," Willie said.

The sheriff said he is in the process of convincing the county to build jail space over the county building in Belle Glade, so the county won't spend thousands and thousands of dollars transferring prisoners between county.

"Belle Glade wants to close down its jail," Willie said, "and we'll be responsible for all prisoners. A jail over here is the only think that makes sense."

Willie touched on the execution of Gary Gilmore, saying: "Capital punishment has got to be a deterrent in fighting crime. If we administer such punishment equally, without regard to creed or race it will be effective."

Willie said he is backing a plan for a county task force, where each city in Palm Beach County would provide a man for the task force and when a city or area had problems in drugs, prostitution, or other vice crime, the Task Force would move in.

Willie is a native of Michigan, joined with Belle Glade members in a timely rendition — due to Governor Jimmy Carter's upcoming inauguration — of "Dixie." All stood for the song.

"I was in the Marines some years back, and was in South Carolina," Willie said. "I was downtown one night and stumbled upon some local boys singing that 'Dixie' song. I didn't respond and they taught me in their fashion that I should respond in the future. Since then I always have stood."

Willie was born in Monroe County, Tenn. and spent most of his years there until coming to Belle Glade 14 years ago. He died January 14 at Pembroke Pines in Hollywood, following a lengthy illness.

Survivors include his mother, Mamie Lou Cardin of Belle Glade; three brothers, Tommy and Paul, both of Belle Glade, and Robert Lee of Atlanta, Ga.; sisters Anita Woods of West Palm Beach, Bonnie Graves of Belle Glade and Ruth Mills of Madisonville, Tenn.

THE FRENCH CONNECTION

...and the Jewish reaction

Sir:

We - along with all civilized people - were shocked and outraged by the callous and precipitous release of PLO terrorist Abu Daoud by a French court, and with the obvious acquiescence of the French Government, today.

In refusing to honor Israel's and Germany's request for extradition under a Franco-Israeli treaty, the French government not only exhibited cynical disregard for international law and morality but also made a mockery of France's recent signing of the anti-terrorism treaty adopted by the Council of Europe.

and its support for the development of a treaty against the taking of hostages approved by the General Assembly of the U.N..

Editorials Comment and Viewpoint

Such actions only give encouragement and succor to international terrorists who effected the Munich massacre, planned by Abu Daoud, identified as a key leader of the Fatah function of PLO. We view France's act as a cowardly capitulation to the blackmail of the Arab states and the blatant threats of the terrorist gangs.

Greed and generosity shown

ILLUS.

Surprisingly how generosity, and the lack of it, can have such great examples in the same meeting on the same night as happened last week.

Like the one businessman who disregards the law in a show of generosity while another is bent on forcing the city to live with a law, which is hard to understand in the first place, for just the opposite reason.

There was no law compelling Dr. H. E. Hill to give up a valuable piece of land in his proposed development. He might be compelled to set aside land for streets and utility easements but no one said he had to donate open land for a park.

Dedicating that land, which he could have sold for a profit, was Dr. Hill's idea and that makes his action all the more commendable because true generosity shouldn't wait for requirements.

Then there was the demand by South Florida Sanitation Co. that the city inform the residents on Northeast 26th and 27th Streets that they could get their garbage pickup from the private company instead of the city.

The company apparently has some kind of legal basis to make the demand, although the city attorney is checking that out. The basis is apparently that once a franchise has been granted to a company to service an unincorporated area, that franchise continues even after the area is annexed into a city.

It doesn't seem to matter that there wasn't anyone living there when the area was annexed and the company didn't lose a single customer but the question is still up in the air about what happens to the city's responsibility to provide the service when a private company has the franchise from the county.

And that doesn't even address the moral question about whether the county's franchise should remain valid inside the city limits.

If it does, the question should be raised with the legislative delegation when it meets here Friday night.

About that franchise

One of those things we've come to love to bemoan lately is the fuel adjustment tacked on the electric bills by Florida Power and Light but we wonder how many people have noticed they're paying more in taxes than they are for higher prices on oil.

Of course, everyone expects the 10 per cent utility tax but it looks like the state's playing games with the franchise tax.

Actually, the correct name for it is a franchise fee but if it looks like a tax, waddles like a tax and quacks like a tax, we'll call it a tax.

And even for those who want to call it a fee, it still has to be one of the weirdest regulated fees around.

Southern Bell has rocked along for some time, for instance, paying their franchise fees out of general revenue, based on one per cent of gross profit made inside the franchise area, usually within city limits.

FP&L, on the other hand, only collected the franchise fees from within the franchise area over the past year until a court suit resulted in a PSC ruling that the electric companies will have to collect their franchise fees from all customers.

Which means a customer in Lake hasn't the foggiest, because the telephone company isn't required

Letter to the editor

Dear Sir:

Informed and concerned citizens are not surprised to see that the National Executive Council of the American Federation of Government Employees met recently to develop "the detailed machinery" for a drive to organize members of the armed forces. It does not take much imagination to realize that should the armed forces of the United States be unionized, the discipline and efficiency of the nation's military forces will be inevitably destroyed by the ruinous strikes of a labor organized "army."

The fact should not be overlooked that the ultimate weapons-strikes are frequently used by public employee unions despite laws expressly forbidding strikes.

The time has come to realize that American citizens have their most important civil right to enjoy immunity from the nuclear attacks of our arch-enemy - the Soviet Union.

Therefore, the discipline of the armed forces should be maintained by all means.

Concerned citizens should urge the 95th Congress to refrain from passing any legislation which would permit the unionization of the armed forces.

It's a snowy Wednesday morning in Belle Glade and I'll tell you there's a new business in town called Campanaro & Sons. They're a snow removal service.

I'm not sayin' it's cold but I and my girl were down to tea at Holiday Inn about 7 a.m. and a seal swam out of the later pipe in the snow.

Seriously, if you care, some stores in town have stocked what we Yankees call "longjohns". Can't mention names because I might miss some who have them, but call me and I'll tell you who has them.

Well, soon there will be something good to do. President of the corporation Billy Rawls tells me that there's going to be a 17,000 square foot skating rink out there on Brady's pasture just south of Gordon Park.

Minding the store

Rawls, Frank Brady and two coast fellas are doin' it and they've got the zoning passed and the tracks in the backhoe going.

"We're in the process of digging out our foundation right now," Rawls said. "We should have it done in 10 days and then we'll fill it up with shell and sand down to the bedrock and begin construction."

The skating rink has the backing of the owners of the "Galaxy" rink in West Palm Beach and "Atlantis" in Green Acres, and a concession stand and off-duty policemen will insure it acts as a "glorified babysitter" as Billy Rawls puts it.

One of the backers - Frank Brady - also is behind a new restaurant for South Bay. I couldn't catch Mr. Brady this week, but sure hope I'll get him before he gets snowed in out at the

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

That was the week that was and thank God for that because if I knew it was the week coming up, I think I'd spend the next seven days in bed.

Matter of fact, if there was any indication last week was some kind of a harbinger of things to come, I'd cancel 1977, not from apathy but from sheer terror.

What was that quote from the Bible? "A thousand shall fall at thy right hand and ten thousand at thy left and death shall not come nigh thee?"

T'warn't true.

Things were going about as smooth as a wood rasp down the gullet for a whole slew of friends and acquaintances.

Take this one lady friend of mine.

She just makes the final payment on her car, see, and naturally figures a good economy measure is to drop the comprehensive insurance...which was a ba-a-ad mistake.

Because no sooner do she drop the insurance coverage, naturally, than she goes to sleep at the wheel and rolls the FolksBuggy over in a ditch, causing severe injuries about the body and pride...not to mention totalling out the car.

Then to add the old insult to injury routine, no one is really sure how long she was in the car between the time it rolled off the road and several times around its own axis and the time she kicked out the windshield and crawled out.

The report had it she had the accident about 2:45 in the mornin' time. She said it was about 1:30...which means she may have lost an hour or so.

That was just one person.

Then there was the feller who started out the day with a couple of slightly severe misunderstandings, proceeded on to pick up a $5 parking ticket and wound up the day trying to force a couple of ice cubes down a glass (honest injun!) and imbedding several shards of said glass in both his hands.

And then there was the lady who came over to the office from Clewiston who got in the borrowed car she was driving only to find out she, "had a problem."

Her ignition key didn't fit the ignition and she couldn't get the car started.

"I thought the house key looked a lot like mine," she muttered later when she found she was trying to put her Ford key into a Chevrolet ignition.

Which took place after a new addition to our office belatedly discovered she had forgotten a sacred obligation to pay the family's phone bill and Southern Bell had lived up to their obligation by yanking the phone off the wall.

That was a problem easily solved, though. All it took was a horrified realization of what happened, a mad dash to the House of Ma Bell and a deep diving into the old checking account.

And me? No big deal...just trying to get over the third relapse of a combined case of a cold, bronchitis, pee-neumonia, leprosy and the doo-little dropsy. Least that's the way it feels.

Welcome, 1977, you dirty !#-?#-?#-&!!! Looks like a fun year.

farm. Seems it's going to be a top-notch restaurant, though, and we'll be looking for it.

Yes, Winn-Dixie is very interested in Pahokee to build and serve a store there. And no, the current site being considered by them and another extremely large local business probably won't be the zonked-out gas station.

For all you druggists and would-be druggists out there, don't worry about Eckerd's. They had their chance a year or more ago to come in here, but businessmen in high places (or those who really run the town...whichever way you read it) tell me with the new Walgreens Agency coming in and a multitude of excellent druggists in town, Eckerd's has killed any idea of coming in here for at least half a decade.

If you look real close at the green Cowarts building on Avenue E, you'll find the store windows there filled with tee-shirts and strange posters.

Well, in the more urban areas, this shop is known as a "head shop." Items for sale include hand-made pipes, books on exotic herbs and many tee-shirts featuring strange and exotic philosophies.

This store is for all with open minds to visit. But if you don't understand the youth culture - forget it.

The bridesmaids wore alternating dresses of pink and blue and blue and orange and each carried a single white mum with blue and pink streamers.

The flower girl wore a sleeveless long blue knit dress with matching lace jacket. She carried a basket of red rose petals.

A reception following the ceremony took place in the fellowship hall of the Baptist Church. Mrs. Mary Parson, the bride's sister-in-law, held the bride's book and the bride's sister, Mrs. Joanie Lamb, helped serve.

The table and hall were decorated with a Christmas theme. The three tiered cake had a miniature bride and groom on top. Punch and mints were served.

The bride's mother wore a long blue knit dress and a red and white carnation corsage.

The bride's mother wore a long pink knit dress and a red and white carnation corsage.

Out of town guests came from Wimauma, Naples, Palm Beach, Fort Pierce, South Bay and Bare Beach.

The couple took a wedding trip to Fort Lauderdale before setting up housekeeping in Henderson's Trailer Park in South Bay. The bride wore a long green knit dress as her traveling outfit.

The groom is employed at S.N. Knight and Sons.

Miss Mateu receives bachelor's

BELLE GLADE—A local student was among those who made the Dean's list and graduated last month from Florida Atlantic University.

Berta Mateu, the daughter of Jorge and Berta Mateu of 812 N.W. Eighth St. in Belle Glade, received the bachelor of arts degree from FAU and appeared on the President's honor list for the fall of '76.

An elementary education major at FAU, Ms. Mateu is a graduate of Glades Central High School and did her lower division work at Palm Beach Junior College in Lake Worth.

She earned a 4.0 grade point average last term.

BELLE GLADE—Four Belle Glade students at Stetson University are on top of the honor roll for the Fall of '76, they are Jose E.

New members are initiated into PEO

The PEO Sisterhood met to welcome two new members on January 13 at the home of Mrs. John Schlechter.

Mrs. Dick Korbly and Mrs. Richard Nason, both from Pahokee were initiated as official club members.

Recognition Day is held at church

It was Recognition Day Sunday, January 8 at the First United Methodist Church of Pahokee. Mr. Marshall Lair and Mr. Jim Tyson, Jr. were praised for their services as secretary and treasurer for the Sunday School Office, for which they have been a part for almost twenty years. Mrs. Marion Hatton spoke words of praise and appreciation for the two men. Rev. Ballard Wilson presented both Mr. Lair and Mr. Tyson with a book as a token of appreciation.

BELLE GLADE—Malvin Craig, a graduate of Glades Central High School and the University of Florida, will be conducting revival services at the Church of God of Prophecy, 800 West Avenue A, January 23-30. Services will begin nightly at 8:00.

Bro. Craig is presently working as state evangelist for the Churches of God of Prophecy in Florida.

New members join Order of Eastern Star

The Pahokee Chapter of the Eastern Star #184 has initiated two new members. They are Alfa and Billy Holloway of Pahokee. The next meeting of the Chapter will be held Thursday, January 27 at the Masonic Temple beginning at 8:00 p.m.

This week's favorite recipe was submitted by Arely Infiesta, of 607 S.E. 4th St., in Belle Glade. Ms. Infiesta is presently employed by CAMP. Her hobbies are cooking, singing and painting.

Ground-Beef Stroganoff

1 lb. lean ground beef, 1 C chopped onions
2 T flour, 3/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper, 1 beef bouillon cube dissolved in one cup boiling water

1 can (3-4 oz) sliced mushrooms, diced
Cooked noodles or rice 3 T sour cream

In skillet saute beef and onions until beef is browned and onion tender, breaking up beef with fork, stir in flour, salt and pepper. Gradually stir in bouillon and mushrooms and stir over medium heat, until mixture is thick and boils. Reduce heat, stir in sour cream, cook 5 minutes (do not boil) Serve over noodles or rice. Serve four.

Ms. Infiesta said the dish is fairly easy to make and is different from most she has tried.

Xi Iota Alpha meets at salad luncheon

Salads of many varieties were the menu of the day, when Xi Iota Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Mrs. Echo Painter for its annual salad luncheon.

The salads brought by the guests ranged from hot chicken to cold strawberries.

Mrs. Painter's guests were Mrs. Janie Fleisch, Mrs. Liz Crockett, Mrs. Naomi Conley, Mrs. Alicia Gimenez, Mrs. Janette Cameron, Mrs. Cynthia Humphrey, Mrs. Sandy White, Mrs. Bertha L. Chance, Mrs. Mary Green, Mrs. Vivian Miller, Mrs. Mickey Harris, Mrs. Mary Frances Burke, Mrs. Nelda Steed and Mrs. Irene Ressing.

Que dice la Biblia acerca de la magia?

Escribe José Antonio García

La semana pasada hablamos de la llegada a Jerusalén de los astrólogos orientales llamados tradicionalmente "Reyes Magos" cosa que aconteció dos años después del nacimiento de Jesucristo, y no cuando estaba en el pesebre allá en Belén.

En el aviso de los angeles a los pastores hay anhelos dos factores importantes, Veamos: María desposada de José, se encontraba en su casa sin haber tenido coito sexual con él. Este siendo hombre justo quizo repudiarla secretamente, para darle la oportunidad de reparar el daño (Adulterio) casándose con el "otro..." y así librarse de ser lapidada (Muerta era a pedir por el pueblo) como era en la ley de Moisés. María había, engendrado por milagro divino, y Jehová Dio era el responsable del milagro para traer a la vida a Jesucristo para que este los angeles en vez de condonar el hecho de tal nacimiento, lo aprobaron avisando a los pastores, humildes israelitas que esperaban al Mesías prometido, anuncíandoles el Nacimiento del Salvador del Mundo, producto de un milagro de Dios, y cumplido en el hecho de que una muchacha señorita, daría a luz un niño en cumplimiento de lo predicho por el profeta Isaías 7:14, unos 700 años antes de C. con las palabras de: "Gloria a Dios en las alturas y paz en la Tierra a los hombres de buena voluntad".

En cuanto al aviso a los astrólogos o magos sudó muy distinto... La palabra "comer" que aparece en el Génesis Kointe en que se escribió la Biblia Vieja, en algunas versiones como magos o astrólogos (Version N.M.) (N.C. Católica) En una nota al pie de la página 996 dice: "Gloria a Dios en las alturas y paz en la Tierra a los hombres de buena voluntad".

Que bendiciones le trajo a los padres que tenían niños pequeño la llegada de estos magos? Ninguna si usted hubiera estado allí en aquellos días, que hubiera sido de sus niños varones...? Confesastez usted mismo, los miraría como los mira la tradición de los países o le vería como en realidad lo hicieron los hechos? Hoy se toma "el pelo" haciendo engañar el "dile de los Santos Inocentes", pero la verdad es que la ciudad estaba llena de sangre, por la mano impalable de un dictador!

guian por su afición al estudio de la astronomía o mejor ASTROLOGÍA, que era una ciencia satírica basada en el principio de que la vida de los hombres se desarrolla bajo la influencia de los astros.

Aquí vemos claramente que el origen y creencia de estos astrólogos es contrario a los principios de la Biblia y que seguir el pueblo de Israel en los días de Jesús puso la ley de Moisés siempre condonando la magia, como también el consultar las estrellas (Astrología o el Horoscopo) vea Isaías 47:13-15.

En cuanto a la historia pasada, Babilonia no se vio madre de la religión falsa, sino la más encónada enemiga del pueblo de Israel. Ella es la causante directa de que hoy el mundo sea plagado por las creencias en los HOROSCOPOS, la astrología como "ciencia".

Babilonia y sus enviados los magos o astrólogos no fueron a inquiren al pueblo de Dios. Nol ellos fueron a inquiren a los elementos de la Biblia, como la ley de Moisés. María había, engendrado por milagro divino, y Jehová Dio era el responsable del milagro para traer a la vida a Jesucristo para que este los angeles en vez de condonar el hecho de tal nacimiento, lo aprobaron avisando a los pastores, humildes israelitas que esperaban al Mesías prometido, anuncíandoles el Nacimiento del Salvador del Mundo, producto de un milagro de Dios, y cumplido en el hecho de que una muchacha señorita, daría a luz un niño en cumplimiento de lo predicho por el profeta Isaías 7:14, unos 700 años antes de C. con las palabras de: "Gloria a Dios en las alturas y paz en la Tierra a los hombres de buena voluntad".

South Florida Fair opens January 21 in WPB

An exciting variety of contests, rides, shows and exhibits, both old and new, will be featured at the 1977 South Florida Fair and Exposition, January 21 through 30, at the fairgrounds in West Palm Beach.

Entertainment features, duangaree dolls, country and western music, a marching band, drill team, marine color guard and fireworks combine to make the Jan. 21, 6:30 p.m. grand opening the most spectacular ever.

The 1977 Miss South Florida Fair pageant will get underway at 7:30 p.m. with a country and western theme. Miss South Florida Fair will reign over a court of four princesses: Miss Industry, Miss Agriculture, Miss Tourism and Miss Recreation, all to be chosen at the pageant.

Radio stations WIRK, AM and FM, in conjunction with the South Florida Fair and Exposition will stage two major events at the fair.

The FM station has made arrangements for country recording star Cleatus Maggard to lead a C.B. convoy to the fair. Maggard is famous for his two C.B. record hits featuring the "White Knight." He will organize a C.B. convoy up and down 195, the length of Palm Beach County, according to Program Director Barry Grant.

New column featuring local recipe of the week

A new column has been added to the Belle Glade Herald and Everglades Observer beginning this week.

The column will feature a local woman each week along with one of her favorite recipes and will contain information about the woman and her picture.

For the time being, recipe columns will alternate between Pahokee and Belle Glade area women.

The column is one of a number of new ideas and concepts being installed in the local newspapers as a concerted effort to more fully cover society events.

The Herald - Observer is also embarking on an increased effort in the area of club meetings, church activities, and feature material.

The newspapers will be welcoming citizen input and ideas on its coverage.

If you have a favorite recipe you would like to share with the community, please call Alina Gomez at the Herald at 996-2056 or Laurel Tarr at the Observer at 924-5571.

Laurel Tarr joins Observer staff as receptionist-writer

LAUREL TARR

PAHOKEE—Laurel Lynn Tarr, daughter of Mrs. Veronica Harrington of 162 South Florida Avenue in Pahokee, joined the Observer staff last week as office receptionist-reporter.

Miss Tarr, age 19 is a life-long resident of Pahokee and a graduate of Pahokee High School. She is presently attending Palm Beach Junior College, Glades Campus, as a part-time student and will receive an Associate of Arts degree in Elementary Education in May.

She is a past employee of the Chamber of Commerce and Pahokee State Park, both in Pahokee, and has future plans of attending Florida Atlantic University.

Violent crime compensation bill is proposed

A bold new innovative program providing financial aid to innocent victims of violent crime was introduced to the Florida legislature in Tallahassee today. In a joint statement, the sponsors of the legislation, Senator Jim Gibson (D-Tavares) and Pat Thomas (D-Gainesville), said, "The time has come for Florida to adopt fair and effective methods of aiding the innocent victims of violent crimes."

This proposed legislation will set up a three member commission to be appointed by the Governor and housed within the Department of Health and Rehabilitation Services. This Crimes Compensation commission will examine and make monetary awards to victims who show "actual need" for benefits.

The funding which establishes the Crimes Compensation Trust Fund will be channeled through three sources coming directly from the criminals and other offenders of the law at state and local levels. The law abiding taxpayers of Florida will pay no tax money to create this program. In addressing this unique funding mechanism, Senator Gibson said, "This new legislation offers the opportunity for victims to recover losses suffered due to violent crimes directly from the criminals who perpetrate the crimes. The victim's financial losses and the criminal's punishment are linked, thus making the criminals increasingly more accountable for the crimes and offering the victim a vehicle by which a portion of his losses can be recovered," he said.

Florida has a tremendous opportunity to be in the forefront of states advocating the rights of victims at least equal to those of the criminal. Twelve states now have victim compensation programs, "but none as detailed and comprehensive as the proposed Florida law," said Senator Thomas. "In 1976 alone, Florida spent nearly $200 million on its state criminal justice system for the apprehension, housing, feeding, medical care, education and detention of the criminal offender, but not a single penny on the victim. "The greatest failing of the criminal justice system today is its utter disregard for the rights of innocent victims of violent crimes," said Senator Thomas.

The most significant impact of this new legislation is that for the first time it would offer to innocent victims of violent crimes suffering personal injury and undue hardships at least a small slice of the appropriations pie heretofore reserved exclusively for the accused and convicted. This objective will be accomplished without the necessity of additional taxes upon the taxpayers.

A companion bill sponsored by Representative Eric Smith (D-Jacksonville) will be introduced to the Florida House of Representatives.

Future water supply foreseen

Residents of Dade, Broward, Palm Beach, Hendry and Glades counties will be the first to get a good look at the future of water supply in their area when the SFWMD sponsors Water Workshops for the public during the last two weeks of May and first two weeks of June.

In order to encourage public participation in the District's Water Use and Supply Development Plan, the Governing Board at its workshop meeting Jan. 13, requested that "special workshops" be held to gather individuals' responses to the first draft of the Plan for the Lower East Coast and Lake Okeechobee areas to be released in April. The workshops will be scheduled in centrally located areas throughout the five counties to make it easier for people to attend.

The Board agrees that it's very important the taxpayers have an opportunity to review all of the facts surrounding each alternative for providing more water to their area," said Robert L. Clark, Governing Board Chairman. "These alternatives will affect each and every resident because of the positive and negative impacts on South Florida's economy, environment, land use, and population."

The workshops will differ from the traditional public hearing format, they will be more informal to allow communication between Governing Board members, SFWMD staff, and the public on a one-to-one basis. Although the exact locations and dates for the workshops have yet to be finalized, two sets of workshops are planned.

The first set will be held in the evening hours to accommodate people who cannot leave work during the daytime. The second set will be held during the afternoon and geared toward county and municipal officials as well as those members of the general public who were unable to attend the first set of workshops.

According to Jan Olsen, Public Participation Administrator, several different ways of gathering people's thoughts, suggestions and criticisms are in the works. Prior to the April release of the first draft, a telephone "hotline" to convey, as well as record, comments on the Water Plan will be installed at District headquarters. Also, an "executive summary" of the draft will be available in April for people who do not care to read through the three-volume complete draft document.

"We are putting a sincere effort into the District's Water Plan public participation program," explains Miss Olsen. "The Plan itself will contain a section dedicated to the responses we receive, and it is expected that many aspects of the plan will be modified by points and issues raised by the public during and after these workshops. As the drafts for other planning areas become available, workshops will be scheduled in those counties, also."

To receive current and future information or comment on the plan, write the Water Plan, South Florida Water Management District, P.O. Box "V", West Palm Beach, FL 33402; or call (305) 686-8800.

QUESTION

What are the advantages of recycling paper? I have purchased recycled paper in the past and have found it to be more expensive than regular paper. Is it worth the extra cost?

ANSWER

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency claims many advantages to recycling paper. According to a recent publication, "How You Can Recycle More Paper."

When we recycle wastepaper instead of throwing it away, we help conserve resources and protection of the environment in several ways:

"The wastepaper is turned into a useful and necessary resource - raw material for new paper and paper products. Wastepaper thus takes the place of virgin wood pulp, and this helps lessen the heavy demand on our forests."

"When paper is made from wastepaper rather than from virgin pulp, the manufacturing process is likely to cause less pollution of water and air, and less solid waste. Also, less energy is required."

"Recycling cuts down on the amount of waste and has to be disposed of by our municipal systems. Paper makes up nearly a third of municipal solid waste by weight and well over half by volume."

Solid waste disposal is a most serious problem for cities today.

Many of them are running out of land area that can be used for disposal purposes. Moreover, improper disposal methods, like the common open dump and conventional incineration, cause pollution of water and air in nearby neighborhoods. Through sanitary landfills, wastepaper can be disposed of without causing pollution when effective methods of site selection, design, and operation are followed. But with the shortage of land, the high cost of hauling waste over long distances to new sites, and the increasing amounts of waste produced, sanitary landfilling is not always possible. In addition it makes little sense to bury material that still have a useful value. Reducing waste at its very source and diverting waste back to useful purposes - recycling - is growing, but rather slowly: 11 million tons were recycled in 1972, compared with 9 million in 1962. In contrast, there has been enormous growth in the total amount of paper we are using. In 1972, we used 64 million tons, 50 percent more than in 1962.

much of this increase is due to the greater amounts of packaging being put around the products we buy. U.S. consumption of paper packaging material rose by 67 percent between 1958 and 1971, nearly half the paper we now use is in the form of packaging.

Some waste paper is not recyclable because of the way it is combined with other materials, or treated, or used; but the amount recycled could be greatly increased if more users, paper manufacturers, and solid waste management systems were oriented toward doing it.

For the papermaking industry, geared to the use of virgin fiber, a shift to using more wastepaper involves large-scale changes. Changes would also be called for in the solid waste management practices followed by most communities - to allow for separate collection of old news papers, for example.
